BERKELEY. September 25.—In two days nearly five inches of rain had fallen in this city. The volume of water has caused considerable damage.

Being entirely unprepared for a rain storm, the grading camp of E. H. & W. L. Stone at Milvia and Grove streets was flooded during the night. Trees were blown down, exposing the workmen to the elements, and it was reported that one of the men was seriously injured by falling. The men were engaged in laying a street track for the Southern Pacific Company on Santruck avenue and in leveling the

A number of sewers were broken during the rush of water through them, the damage on Milva street being particularly serious, owing to the law which

FOOTBALL WILL SOON COMMENCE

Season Will be Formally Opened on October 23—Gossip About the Players.

BY ALFRED C. GOLLAN

On the eve of the commencement of the Association football season a brief review of the prospects of the local clubs and those across the bay would perhaps be of interest.

The season which will be formally opened on October 23rd by the commencement of the league games promises to be the most successful in the history of the game in California.

The game has taken a phenomenal turn in its development and today the round ball is being manipulated in San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Hayward, San Mateo and Santa Cruz with good prospects of being taken up by both universities of the State and the State University.

It is due to the Union High School of Hayward and the St. Michael's of San Francisco in leading the way in the game and it is now the aim of the San Francisco universities to take it on in the same way. The game has taken a phenomenal turn in its development and today the round ball is being manipulated in San Francisco, Oakland, Alameda, Hayward, San Mateo and Santa Cruz with good prospects of being taken up by both universities of the State and the State University.

going to be tried out and practicing has begun on the ground in East Oakland. They have already received challenges from the Hornets and the Sailors in the future.

THE HORNETS

Idora Park will again be the Hornets' headquarters. Though somewhat delayed last season the club has taken new life and some good new men will don the colors. The Hornets lost a capable man in Shand but Pomeroi thinks this far the best of the deal when he secured the services of Gilchrist and M. Gieger. But there is a word of good news for the Hornets. They are this season being made to suit the team from their huge stable which could be called a dozen or more in circles.

OCCIDENTALS

Tommy Lydon something will be able to keep the Occidentals this year. They have secured all the players they have the hope they will be a formidable line up.

PICKWICKS

The Pickwicks have been having very quiet during the close season. A number of players have left the club but they have been replaced by a new line up.

THE EAGLES

This new outfit is made up of the football players like the last year they are making a fine team. The Eagles are making a fine team. The Eagles are making a fine team.

BY THE WAY

San Francisco will be represented in the football game by St. Michael's. The game will be played on October 23rd.

ALBION ROVERS

The Rovers have been in full training for the past week or two. They are making a fine team. The Rovers are making a fine team.

VAMPIRES

The Vampires are keeping very quiet regarding their team. They will have the same bunch as last year with the exception of Showell Buckle, Kay and Gieberger.

THE PIRATES

This happy bunch of Scotchmen though not participating in the League games always manages to put a formidable team on the field. Some of the veteran players have announced their intention of retiring this season but a little persuasion will bring them into the fold for another term.

STAKES OFFERED THIS YEAR WILL AMOUNT AGGREGATE $50,000

The coming winter season on the Emeryville and San Francisco tracks under the auspices of the California Jockey Club promises to be a good one. Many tables are being shipped here and it is expected to follow the stakes offered last year which aggregated almost $50,000.

As usual the Buick handicap is the one of the season. For this a purse of $10,000 is being offered. There are a number of events to be run throughout the season.

WALTER JENNINGS JACK GRANT AS COMING REFEREE

HORSEMAN WILL AGAIN RUN HIS STABLE ON LOCAL TRACK. WILL BE IN THE RING WITH LONG AND NEARY.

Walter Jennings will be with us again. The standby of racing on the Emeryville and San Francisco tracks has sent word to the California Jockey Club that he will have a whole string of his horses here in a week or so. At present Jennings has a good portion of his stable in the Emeryville meet but as soon as the races close he will ship the bunch to Emeryville. Jennings had some of his best horses entered in the Westchester race but has decided to forfeit his entries and the chance of getting a purse or two and send his stable to the Emeryville track. It is not the intention of Jennings to work his animals to death and he has announced to the California Jockey Club that he is going to shore the Eastern track. Last year Jennings' stable made the 1st of winners on the Emeryville track and Walter Jennings for the first position this year.

The California Yacht Club has arranged for a 20-foot race to be held on the bay tomorrow. A number of well-known yachtsmen will be competing and it is expected to be a very interesting contest. The race will be held under the auspices of the California Yacht Club.

tour of this wonderful mirth provoker.

SAN TOY.

John C. Fisher will present "San Toy" at the Macdonough Theater on October 31 and November 1 and 2.

AT YE LIBERTY.

One of the finest scenic productions put on the boards of Ye Liberty Playhouse since the opening of "The Ensign" by William Haworth. The story is unusually interesting, and is one that has been popular for many years in the hands of our best actors. Tonight and tomorrow night will witness the last two performances of "The Ensign" for on Monday that clever comedy "Gloriana" comes with its screamingly funny situations and bright lines.

This farce-comedy is a most delightful.

KYRLE BELLEW TO PLAY AT THE MACDONOUGH.

uations as does this latest offering from the pen of William Robert. George Kline has spent no less than $10,000 on the effects and scenery for this play, and his reputation for never doing anything halfway is a guarantee that the performance will be fully up to the standard and well worth the price of admission. The evening prices are 25, 50 and 75 cents, and seats are now on sale for both performances.

KYRLE BELLEW.

An unusually interesting announcement for next Monday and Tuesday nights at the Macdonough Theater is the appearance of the celebrated English actor, Kyrle Bellew, undoubtedly the handsomest and one of the most gifted and successful stars of the day. In his newest drama, "Raffles," the amateur thief, Mr. Bellew will be surrounded by precisely the same cast which played in "Raffles" with him in New York last season for 200 performances—the record run of the metropolitan season. E. M. Holland positively will be seen in his original role of Captain Bedford, the detective, one of the strongest characterizations of this eminent player's long career. The joint appearance of Mr. Bellew and Mr. Holland is in itself a striking event, but they are not the only celebrities in the production. Clara Blandick, the most beautiful and the best story Quixote that ever appeared in "The Christian," is leading woman, and the subsidiary artists—roles are acted by no less capable players than Battle Russell, Beverly Slight, Mignon Beanger, Olive Wyndham, Stanton Elliott, Frank McCormack and Starling Gates. Seats are now on sale at 25, 50, 75 cents, and $1.00 and $1.50.

THE BURGOMASTER.

A prima donna who has a romantic history is to be seen at the Macdonough next Friday and Saturday nights, September 30 and October 1, when W. P. Cullen's big production of "The Burgomaster" will be the attraction.

SIDE TRACKED.

Julie Walters' side-splitting comedy, "Side Tracked," will be seen at the Macdonough the week of October 2. New and effective features have been added for the fourteenth consecutive cents matinees on Sunday will be resumed at the Macdonough Theater this season, commencing tomorrow with a special matinee of "On the Bridge at Midnight," the great movie-dramatic success. Probably no drama ever written contains as many sensational and startling climaxes and situations as does this latest offering from the pen of William Robert.

CLARA BLANDICK WITH KYRLE BELLEW.

BABY MAITLAND AT THE LIBERTY.

clever of his kind before the public today. He will perform the wonderful feat next Wednesday morning of driving blindfolded through the streets accompanied by three strangers, and a local week-end article that is to be hidden by parties concerned. McKen has successfully accomplished this feat in all the leading cities of the country, and is considered a big attraction. The main vaudeville act will be Pearlita, novelty dancer, in her spectacular turn entitled "The Four Seasons—Spring, Summer, Autumn and Winter." Favorable notices proved her R. Clinton Montgomery, the man who has made himself famous as an illustrated singer, and who is said to possess a marvelous voice, will make his initial bow to an Oakland audience, having been secured by the management at a large salary. There will be other high-class features, and some new moving pictures, and a whole lot of entertainment promises to be a great treat for the novelty patrons.

THE EMPRE.

This popular theater is gaining favor with the public more and more every day. The well-appointed house has crowded audiences at every performance to witness the exceptionally fine bills always presented there. The program this week is no exception to the general rule of being unsurpassed by any popular price theater in the West. The Empire chautauque manages to get the best people in the profession, never stopping at expense. This week's program is on that compares favorably with the previous efforts of the Empire management, and every turn is acceptable. It is to be regretted that Miss Gladys Carlyle is to terminate her engagement at this house tomorrow evening. She has installed herself here as a prime favorite, and she will certainly be missed by those who attend its popular play house. Zana and Zari, the lightning change artists, have a very good turn, and Hoyt and McDonald are above the average as a sketch team. Holmes and Holmes have an act that allows them to appear advantageously, while Harry Decoe, the chair balancer, does some difficult feats. The motion pictures are a new budget, showing a millionaires' tempestuous love life, as is the usual custom, there will be a full change of bill beginning next Monday. It will embrace the following: Sam and Ida Kelly, who will appear in a Rural Set, on original comedy with them, who is claimed to be something out of the ordinary and extremely refreshing. Humann and Hamilton, two lady musical artists direct from Eastern successes, who make their first appearance on the coast; J. Howard Maxwell, a burlesque comedian, on the monologue order, late with one of the leading minstrel shows in the country. The management promises to present a novelty never seen here before, that will put all previous efforts in this direction in the shade. There will be some other first-class artists besides those mentioned, and so some of the latest motion pictures and illustrated songs. It will be a banner week at The Empire.

MAJEST C.

Tonight will mark the last performance of the magnificent production of "The Altar of Friendship," which has aroused so much favorable comment among the patrons of Mr. H. W. Bishop's Majestic Theater, San Francisco, on account of its artistic rendition by the capable members of Oliver Morosoff's all star organization and the beauty of its scenic features. "Captain Barrington," one of the most American of all the romantic dramas that pictured the days of the revolutionary era, will begin with tomorrow, Sunday night, the Majestic's offering for the coming week.

MAURICE STEWART AT YE LIBERTY.

It presents all those features which appeal to theater goers and that it had a successful run of twelve weeks at the Manhattan Theater, New York, and has been a strong drawing card at the leading theaters in other big Eastern centers is an indication that it will find favor here as interpreted by the popular and artistic players which present the attractions at Mr. H. W. Bishop's elegant playhouse.

TAKING FLIGHT.

And she is gone; sweet human love is gone. 'Tis only when they spring to heaven that angels reveal themselves to you; they sit all day Beside you, and lie down at night by you. Who care not for their presence, must or sleep— And all at once they leave you, and you know them. —Browning.

Woman likes to be called a bird until she suddenly remembers that parrots are birds. A man considers it an accomplishment when a woman says: "Oh, you are like all the rest of your sex."

What the Local Writers Have to Say About People We Know.

HUNTINGTON'S GREAT AMBITION

Southern California is rapidly becoming Huntingtonized. Henry E. who has practically deserted San Francisco for the region south of the Tehachas, is tagging his name to everything down there. There is a Huntington boulevard near Los Angeles, a Huntington building covering nearly a block. Last week Huntington Beach was opened with a brass band. The Huntington trolley lines form a net work all over Los Angeles county; the Los Angeles street railway is Henry's; he is completing the latest electric railway trestle in the world across a portion of San Pedro bay a distance of nine thousand feet. If all this were not enough, Huntington has just announced that he will soon connect Los Angeles and San Diego by a trolley. They say his ambition is to girdle the globe with a trolley. Certainly he has Southern California in a net of trolley lines.

The Swedish cook, gardener and delivery man who joined hands in a scheme to "stuff" Mrs. Herman Oelrich's meat bills did not know the lady they were dealing with. Mrs. Oelrich manages her house with the keen and critical eye of a German housewife and has no patience with the methods of the average careless, happy-go-lucky matron who depends on her husband to pay for her loose housekeeping ways. She runs her house as a man of affairs conducts his business, and goes over her accounts as carefully as ever an expert book-keeper makes up his trial balance. Mrs. Oelrichs is not parsimonious—in fact she is a cheerful giver and spends, but she does not believe in fostering the vampires who fasten on most wealthy households. I believe it was Mrs. Oelrichs who first discovered that the French maids, among them her own "treasure," had a profitable side business gained by "knocking" their mistress's clothes and by surreptitiously rendering them unfit to wear. It was the custom of these maids to tell their madames that such and such a gown made her look a fright, and if this "knocking" did not make madame discard the gown the maid discovered a rent in it which she pretended even her clever fingers could not mend. In this way the maids felt heir to practically new gowns which they

H. P. DALTON ANSWERS STREET RAILROAD MUST ATTACKS

Says He is Being Villified for Trying to Protect the Small Property Holders.

EDITOR TRIBUNE—It seems that this campaign cannot go on without vilification and mudslinging. I have endeavored to argue the question of the purchase of the proposed Central Park tract and additional land for a City Hall in such a manner as to put the facts before the people so that they can judge for themselves as to the advisability of procuring those properties. Ever since I have been in office I have been vilified and persecuted by the emissaries of the big corporations of this county, because I have endeavored to stand for what I considered to be the best interests of the smaller taxpayers. There has been suit after suit to harass and persecute me in the hope that I might be forced to look at values on corporation property through the eyes of the corporations. And so it is

THE GRAND LODGE IS NOW ENDED

Odd Fellows Complete Work in San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows today completed the work of its annual session by installing the officers elect. With the exception of Grand Sire R. D. Wright, who was installed at his residence in Allentown, Pa. The new grand sire made known by telegraph his selections for the appointive offices and the men chosen were formally installed. After adopting various resolutions of congratulation and thanks the lodge adjourned to meet a year hence in Philadelphia.

INSTALLED AT HOME.

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 24.—Grand Sire-elect Robert E. Wright of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows, who was prevented by illness from attending the meeting in San Francisco, was installed at his home here today by Past Grand Sire Clement T. Campbell, of Ontario in the presence of a score of officials of the Grand Lodge of Pennsylvania.

Mr. Wright announced these appointments and they were telegraphed to San Francisco in order that the new incumbents could be installed before the Sovereign Grand Lodge adjourns today: Grand Marshal John B. Cook, Indiana; Grand Guardian, Edmund L. Pillsbury, Massachusetts; Grand Messenger, C. H. Lyman, Ohio; Committee on Finance, F. A. Stier, District of Columbia; William H. Cox, Kentucky.

STREET RAILROAD MUST GO THROUGH PARK

Frank C. Havens Says Strip Has Been Sold to the S. F. and S. J. Company.

(By Press Committee of Progress Federation.) At a joint meeting of the committee from the Progress Federation and the Merchants' Exchange, held this morning with the officers of the Realty Syndicate, the matter of the proposed Central Park was thoroughly discussed. The matter of the right of way for the electric road through the park was brought up and the officers of the Syndicate stated that reservation was made from the fact that they had already sold that strip of land on hundred feet wide through the very narrowest portion of the park to the San Francisco, San Jose and Oakland Railway Company. The officers of the Syndicate, however, stated that the electric road through the park would be by tunnel through the hills and thence over a steel trestle from fifty to eighty feet in height. The result of the conference was that Manager F. C. Havens of the Realty Syndicate issued the following open letter to the Mayor and officers and members of the Progress Federation, the latter body being composed of all the improvement clubs, commercial

WILL COME TO FAR WEST TO TALK

Senator Fairbanks Will Speak on the Coast.

RUSHFORD, Minn., September 24.—Having crossed the Mississippi at La Crosse, Wis., Senator Fairbanks and Doliver began their Far West campaign today with brief speeches at this point. There was a good crowd at the railroad station when the train approached and the Vice-Presidential candidate and his traveling companions were cordially received. The special train which is to make the long run to the Pacific Coast and back was made up at La Crosse and consists of a combination car, a regular sleeper and a baggage car. The regular party was joined at La Crosse by a number of prominent Minnesota Republicans including Senator Clapp, Hon. R. C. Dunn, Republican candidate for Governor of Minnesota; Hon. W. C. Eastace, Hon. C. L. Mitchell, and others. The speakers were introduced at the day meetings by Congressman Tawney.

TRAINS COLLIDE IN SOUTH

Fifty People Are Killed and Others are Injured.

ATLANTA, Ga., September 24.—According to advices received here by the Southern Railway people, it is believed that fifty persons were killed in the wreck near New Market, Tenn., and that seventy-five were injured. TUE DEAD. KNOXVILLE, September 24.—The wreck occurred near New Market, Tenn. The trains in collision were the eastbound passenger from Knoxville to Salisbury, N. C., and a local passenger train. The known dead are: William K. Kane of Knoxville, engineer westbound train. Richard Parrot, Knoxville, engineer eastbound train. James King, Knoxville. James Mills, colored, New Market. Every car in the eastbound train was demolished except the sleeper. None of the passengers on the westbound train were killed. A number of people were going from Knoxville to New Market to attend the funeral of W. R. King, a prominent citizen of that place, who died yesterday. James King, one of the dead, was a brother of W. R. King. Congressman Henry R. Gibson of Knoxville was among the injured. His condition is not serious. The trains were due to pass at Hodge's station, but collided about one and one-half miles west of that place. A relief train carrying physicians has left Knoxville. Superintendent Loyall was in Chattanooga when the collision occurred and is en route to the wreck on a special train. A statement from a Southern railway source this afternoon is to the effect that fifty are dead and 120 injured in the wreck. The relief train conveying the dead and injured is expected to reach Knoxville about 4 o'clock. R. E. L. Mountcastle of Knoxville, Democratic National Committee man from Tennessee, was among the killed.

CAUSE OF WRECK

ATLANTA, Ga., September 24.—The Southern Railway officials here gave out the following account of the wreck at New Market, Tenn.: "No. 15, a passenger train from Knoxville for Bristol and No. 12, passenger train from Bristol to Knoxville, collided just west of New Market, Tenn., today. The engines and coaches were badly damaged. "The baggage car and engine of No. 15 were destroyed, the engine, one combination car, one baggage car and three coaches of No. 12 were almost totally wrecked. "The four sleepers on No. 12 did not leave the track and were not damaged. No passengers in the sleepers were injured, but between 50 and 75 coach passengers were killed and 100 and 150 injured. Both engineers are under the engines. It will take eight to twelve hours to clear the track. "The cause of the wreck is said to be the misreading of orders by conductor of No. 15. W. B. Caldwell was conductor on No. 15 and W. H. Kane, engineer. Conductor Thomas Murphy was in charge of No. 12 and C. M. Parrot, the engineer."

FIREMEN INJURED IN BOSTON.

BOSTON, September 24.—St. Augustine's Parochial School in South Boston a brick structure, caught fire this afternoon. It being Saturday few persons were in the building. The flames, arising through the wooden roof, were carried over the thickly settled neighborhood. The school is in charge of the Sisters of Notre Dame. Several firemen were injured when the roof collapsed and were taken to a hospital.

JOHN NICHOLL OBJECTS TO CENTRAL PARK

Declares it is Not Worth $200 an Acre—Did Not Find Running Water.

John Nicholl, proprietor of the Nicholl block at the corner of Ninth and Washington streets the owner of an immense amount of realty in this county, and a resident of this section since 1873, speaking in opposition to the Central Park bond proposition today, said: "I have been at all times for bonds up to last Wednesday when I made a personal inspection of what is known as Central Park. "After looking the ground over, I am convinced that the property is not worth one-half what is being asked for it. If the Sather tract as a whole was included in the park lines, I believe the whole property would be worth $500 per acre, and I would be willing to advocate and vote for the proposition, provided it included all of the Sather tract. "I don't consider the property included in the park lines as a whole, worth $200 per acre. "I have been led to believe that there was running water in the creek. I did not find any. There is not water enough in the creek to give a goat a drink. "The park lines as drawn put me very much in mind of taking several chunks out of a dollar and then attempting to sell the dollar for two dollars. "I have been a resident of Alameda county since 1873 and I am familiar with real estate values. I have been in favor of improvements, bonds and advancement and was in favor of the Central Park proposition until my attention was recently called to it."

COSSACKS FIGHTING IN HOLLOW-SQUARE FORMATION. General Kuropatkin reports all quiet along his entire front yesterday, and it is evident from the tone of today's advices that the two armies are not yet in close touch. A dispatch from Mukden says that the Japanese are moving forward with extreme slowness. Che Foo reports that two hours of heavy firing was heard by vessels passing off Port Arthur, but there is no confirmation of the dispatch from St. Petersburg published in the Paris Matin saying that the Emperor had received private dispatches to the effect that a general assault on the position was in progress. Like the majority of the reports

WILL ENTERTAIN BISHOP CRUSADER AT A STATE DINNER

President Will Do the Honors at the White House This Evening.

WASHINGTON, September 24.—The Right Hon. and Most Rev. Thomas Randall Davidson, the Archbishop of Canterbury, who arrived here on his special train today, was met at the station by Rev. Dr. De Vries, chaplain to the Bishop of Washington, and Bishop Satterlee's secretary, whose hand he received the bishop's greetings.

The Archbishop and his wife, his chaplain and attendant, entered carriages and drove to the residence of Bishop Satterlee on Highland Terrace.

A thanksgiving service was then held in the private chapel for the escape of the primate and his party from the railroad accident yesterday, after which the distinguished guests breakfasted with the Bishop and Mrs. Satterlee.

The remainder of the party, including Bishop Doane and Mr. Pierpont Morgan, were driven to the Arlington, where they will remain during the primate's visit here.

Sir Mortimer Durand, the British Ambassador, was the first caller the primate received today. He had come all the way from Lenox to greet the prelate.

The Ambassador made arrangements for the primate's presentation to the President.

Later in the day the Archbishop will drive over the city with General Gillespie, assistant chief of staff.

This afternoon he will receive in the Corcoran Art Gallery and tonight will be the guest of the President at a state dinner in his honor.

Bishop Satterlee gave luncheon today to the Archbishop. The company included the British Ambassador, Bishop Doane, Mr. Morgan and twenty prominent citizens of Washington.

CAPTURED BY JAPS

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.—The Merchants' Exchange has received a cable message from London stating that the British steamer Crusader, bound from Oregon ports for the Far East, has been captured by the Japanese and taken to Hokkaido.

The Crusader sailed from Astoria, Oregon, September 23, for Shanghai. At the office of the Pacific Export Lumber company, no reason for the reported seizure could be assigned. The vessel was loaded with a neutral cargo, consigned to neutral ports and sailed under a neutral flag. A large portion of her cargo was consigned to the Paul Brunet Company of Shanghai, and the balance was consigned to the Oregon Lumber Company, at Tien Tsin, the port of receipt being Taku.

The vessel's route would take her very close to Hokkaido and it is surmised here that the vessel was merely stopped from the ordinary course by the Japanese fleet engaged in examining the papers and cargo of neutral vessels in the Far Eastern waters.

The British steamer Crusader is owned by the Eakside Steamship Company, limited, of Whitby, England.

PRESIDENT WILL CALL FOR A PEACE CONGRESS.

Will Ask the Other Nations to Send Representatives to the Hague.

WASHINGTON, September 24.—In whatever is now done should appear not as something divergent therefrom, but as a continuation thereof.

Further along in his speech, the President said:

"A reasonable time has elapsed and I feel that you have shown sound judgment in concluding that a second conference should now be called to carry some steps further toward completing the work of the first."

ORLOFF OUT OF ARMY

ST. PETERSBURG, September 24.—Major General Orloff, who has been held responsible for the retreat of the Russian forces from Liao Yang, has been dismissed from the army. The action was taken in accordance with a decision of General Kuropatkin.

Brigadier General Fomin of General Orloff's division, who was reported to have been killed at Liao Yang, is now found to be severely wounded.

There is some hope of his recovery.

ST. PETERSBURG, September 24.—There is no truth in the story published by the Matin of Paris this morning to the effect that telegrams reached the Emperor at 4 o'clock this morning announcing that the Japanese were engaged in a general assault on Port Arthur and that the whole of Admiral Togo's and Vice Admiral Kamimura's squadrons were aiding in the struggle, which, it is further asserted, is feared here would be final.

JAPANESE STILL ON THE ADVANCE

MUKDEN, September 22.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The Japanese continue their advance northward with extreme swiftness. General Kuroki's headquarters are close to Pensiin, about forty-five miles east of Liao Yang.

A Turkestan regiment is reported to have killed eight Japanese cavalrymen in the brush near Yentai.

Junks are coming up the Liao river regularly with supplies for the Japanese.

The return of Lieutenant General Rennenkampf to the command of the cavalry division has been signaled by renewed activity on the part of the Russians.

LAW SUIT OVER CENTRAL PARK SITE.

Mrs. Josephine Bruguere Begins Suit to Foreclose a Vendor's Lien on Sather Tract.

A new complication has been added to the proposition to purchase a portion of the Sather tract, together with other parcels of land for a park site, by the filing to foreclose a vendor's lien. The complaint was filed in the Alameda Superior Court by John J. Roche, a San Francisco attorney.

The plaintiff in the action is Mrs. Josephine F. Bruguere, and the defendants are F. C. Havens, F. M. Smith, F. J. Woodward and W. H. Chickering all of Oakland. The suit is to foreclose a vendor's lien for $30,000 upon the property known as the Sather tract. A part of this tract is a portion of the lands which have been offered for sale to the city of Oakland for a park and concerning the purchase of which an election is to be held on Tuesday next.

It is alleged in the complaint that Mrs. Bruguere sold the Sather tract on May 28, 1903, to F. C. Havens, and F. M. Smith, through their agent, F. J. Woodward, who took the title as their trustee for the agreed price of $230,000. Of this sum, the complaint alleges, $21,000 has been paid, the remaining $8,000 being in when the battle of Tilsu (Vafangow) was fought on June 15.

There are persistent rumors among the Chinese that the Russians are evacuating Mukden and are preparing to make a desperate stand at Tie pass.

Everything now awaits the result of the attack upon Port Arthur.

HEARD FIRING AT PORT ARTHUR

CHE FOO, September 24 (6:30 p. m.)—The steamer Victoria, which arrived here this evening from Newchwang, heard two hours heavy firing at Port Arthur this morning, the firing being on the east side of the city. The steamer was twice stopped by Japanese warships, but was only briefly detained.

FIRST TOUCH OF THE WINTER

GEN. KUROKI'S HEAD-QUARTERS IN THE FIELD (via Fusan), September 19.—(Delayed in transmission.)—The first touch of the Manchurian winter, which follows the summer abruptly, came yesterday with a sudden cold wave, the thermometer registering 44 degrees during the night. Much discomfort was experienced by the soldiers, who, clad in khaki, were sleeping outdoors. A supply of winter clothing has begun to arrive and all the men will soon be provided for in this respect.

PRESENT STORM BEATS THE RECORD OF '49

Much Damage Was Done by the Rain—What the Record Shows.

The weather prophet is still agog, as the rain continues to fall in street work reported over the September drenching that Oakland and vicinity is getting. The oldest inhabitant has at last seen non-plussed for there was nothing which occurred in the fall of '49 or the spring of '50 which equals the down-pour of life-giving rain of the last two days. The memory of men does not extend backward far enough to recall another such wetting at this time of the year.

The second day's rain in effect was far less severe than the first day's. All the damage has practically been done. There are but few new breaks in the

THE RAINFALL.

The rainfall for the last twenty-four hours was 1.66 inches. Yesterday 2.39 inches fell, making a total of practically four inches for this season. No rain had fallen up to this time last year.

Florist H. M. Sanborn and other propagators are of the opinion that the rainy season will this year surpass all previous years.

The telephone service has been seriously disturbed. It has been down for some time as a result of the electrical disturbances.

BISHOPS WILL MEET IN CONVENTION.

Will Try to Change Name to Protestant Episcopal Church.

BOSTON, September 24.—A number of bishops from abroad who will participate actively in the proceedings in the Episcopal general convention of the Episcopal churches to be held in this city October 6-26, have arrived in the United States. The greater number, however, will attend the rather ill-convened convention of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew in Philadelphia, the latter part of the month before coming to Boston.

Among those who have reached the country are Right Rev. Charles H. Brent, Bishop of the Philippines; Right Rev. Henry B. Swetlock, Bishop of the Hawaiian Islands; Right Rev. James H. Vaughan, Bishop of Porto Rico; Right Rev. Peter T. Rowe, Bishop of Alaska; Right Rev. L. L. Kingsolving, Bishop of Southern Brazil; Right Rev. John McKim Blanton of Tokyo, and Right Rev. S. D. Ferguson (colored), Bishop of Cape Palmas, Liberia.

In addition to Most Rev. Randall Davidson, Archbishop of Canterbury, the Church of England will have as representatives Lord Bishop of Ripon, and one or two other members of the Anglican Episcopal Church.

Among the important topics of business to be considered by the house of bishops and house of deputies, the progressive bodies of the church is the report of the commission which was appointed three years ago to consider the question of changing the legal name of the church to "Protestant Episcopal" and to seek the opinion of the laity. The commission in a report made public last spring decided against a change at this time.

The agitation for a more explicit and definite action on the prohibition of the marriage of divorced persons, except on rare cause, will also be discussed at length and the advisability of amending the dioceses of the country into provinces with a definite semi-bishop at the head of each province will also be considered.

FAVORITE AMONG TRAVELERS.

Miss West, of the Arlington Hotel, has grown very popular in the estimation of the travel public and is now one of the best-remembered, reasonably priced, in the State. During the I. O. O. F. demonstration the house was full to overflowing, with the officers of rank in this order, who sought a quiet, respectable place for their families.

Mr. Mayes realizes that something besides golf rooms are required by the patronage and has provided the best in the culinary department and sets the best table in town. Single drinks at 25c.

Awful Catastrophe at a Public School in Ohio.

BURGLAR SAFELY LANDED

HAYWARDS, September 23.- A daring burglar was captured here after midnight as he was in the very act of climbing from the Occidental Hotel into the barroom through a window. He was not taken without a struggle and gave the men who discovered him a merry chase before he was finally captured and lodged in jail.

Fred Hayer, Joseph Soares and Deputy County Clerk Zambriski were returning to their homes shortly after

They had no weapons and Rader had about $600 in cash upon his person. The money of the N. S. G. W. Carnival Association was in a box in the room.

there but without giving the slightest warning. He then turned on the light of their own safety, they quickly headed the stairs and made a run for the man who had succeeded in getting into the building. Soares made a run at the man who tried to get out of the passageway and as he got close to the man he suddenly turned and floored Soares with a blow from his fist. He then made his escape out of the building before Rayer could get to him. But they both continued the chase in which Zambreski joined. They went around several blocks until people coming from an opposite direction headed the man back into their midst and breathless he was taken a prisoner and locked up.

Several places have been burglarized, of late and it is believed that the marrow under arrest may have been implicated in the others. He is a marabout 24 years of age and gives his name as Joseph Jose, a Porto Rican.
When asked to explain what he was doing in the hotel he said he was looking for a place to sleep. He, however, had carefully removed his shoes to ensure his presence not being detected by any noise made by him.

OAKLAND TRIBUNE

Tribune Publishing Company.

William E. Dargie, President.

A Final Word as to Bonds

The bond proposition has been quite thoroughly threshed out; it has been discussed from various points of view, its several features analyzed and the effect of incurring the proposed indebtedness on the tax rate debated exhaustively. At this time the public should be well informed on the subject and prepared to vote intelligently. Fortunately the various projects are segregated so that the citizen can vote for as many or as few of them as seems best—he does not have to gulp down anything objectionable to get the good.

After hearing all that has been said pro and con and carefully scanning the proposition, THE TRIBUNE feels justified in advising the approval of the following features of the improvement scheme: The small parks and playgrounds, boulevards, sewers, city wharves, lake dredging, stone culverts, bituminous crosswalks, Polytechnic High School, Library and new City Hall. We regard all these as meritorious and calculated to be of advantage to the city in every respect. In our opinion, every one of these propositions should carry, and we earnestly hope that objections raised to one feature of the bonding scheme will not prejudice voters against the other features. The adoption of the projects named will do wonders for the city in the way of making it beautiful and attractive, and we believe the voters will consult their own interests in voting for them solidly. No one should fail to vote for the Polytechnic School, in particular, which is needed to complete the city's educational system.

The objections that Mr. McLaren, superintendent of Golden Gate Park in San Francisco, to the manner in which the proposed park has been laid out are entitled to great weight. Mr. McLaren is an expert and he is disinterested. His precise words, here stated, are worthy of careful and dispassionate study:

"Are not those high ridges included in your park site? You must get them. If you do no control the ridges people will build on them and shut out all of your beautiful views.

"I, moreover, advise you not to permit the Oakland Transit Company, whose surveyors I see here at work, to run their line through the park, as appears to be their intention. You will always regret it.

"I also advise you to secure the entire portion of the Sather tract which has been left out of the present site. You need it all in your park."

What Mr. McLaren says is vital to the issue and at the same time has a direct bearing on the question of value. His remarks are a light by which the voters may determine for themselves whether the city is being fairly dealt with in the Central Park project. They bring both availability and value under sharp review, and their source gives them a claim to respect.

But the whole public improvement scheme should not be voted down because of a single feature. As a whole it merits approval, and the voters should bear in mind the fact that they are at liberty to reject any proposition they see fit. They are given the power to discriminate, and they should be wise enough to discriminate fairly and with sound judgment. Prejudice nor personal feeling should not be permitted to control action in this matter. Let it not be said that all the labor and exhortation in behalf of public improvement were thrown away. Stand by what is good in the bond ordinance, and vote for progress and the beautification of the city.

Professor J. G. Lemmon's first public appearance since his famous tour of the Placer county foothills in company with Professor Frank Jordan is to come forward with an endorsement of the Central Park proposition. Professor Lemmon finds the flora of Indian Gulch irreproachable and the soil virtuous; he is therefore happy. Professor Frank Jordan will give his views on this important question next Monday afternoon. The public cannot fail to be enlightened by the scientific investigation of two such eminent authorities on botany and wild lands.

The Pullman Shops Shut Down

It is freely stated that the Pullman car works at Chicago were shut down for the purpose of enforcing the "open shop" principle. It is said that no economic reason caused the shut-down, but that the Pullman Company deliberately closed the works temporarily as an expedient for breaking down the closed shop restriction. This has not been denied by the gentlemen who control the corporation, and hence some credence must be attached to the statement, which, if true, means that the shut-down is in reality a lock-out. Whatever induced the cessation of operations in the Pullman shops, it has thrown thousands of men out of employment for an indefinite period during a time of political unrest. There will be much suffering in consequence, which no thoughtful and humane person can contemplate without regret. Coming as it does on the heels of the stock-yards strike, it will make the pinch of poverty severely felt among the poorer classes in Chicago this winter. If it be true that the Pullman shut-down was prompted by the stock-yards strike, the fact is doubly significant. The closing of the Pullman works did no come till after it was apparent that the packing-house strike was a failure. The men won't go back to work in the packing-houses at the reduced wage scale on an open shop basis. It would appear, therefore, that the success of the employees in the stock-yards strike had emboldened the Pullman people to try conclusions with the labor unions. It is a fight in which war has not been declared but is being waged nevertheless.

A Lake County paper criticizing a candidate for Superior Judge, whom it evidently does not admire, says, "He looks wise, talks wise, walks wise. Likewise the owl." If this does not crush the budding judicial aspiration, we do not know what will. If the people will vote for a man who looks wise, talks wise, and walks wise, they can be honeyfugged on most any proposition.

A Common Sense Proposition

Here in the Third District there is, happily no question as to who will be elected to Congress. Mr. Metcalf, who has represented the district with signal ability for three terms, has resigned to accept a higher office, but every child in the street knows that he is to be succeeded by Hon. Joseph R. Knowland. There is no question as to who shall represent this constituency.

In the Sixth district, however, we are informed that there is some doubt about the re-election of Mr. Needham. We do not believe it. We cannot think any sensible constituency will retire so effective a man as Mr. Needham to send a new and untried man in his place. What could be gained by such a proceeding? Mr. Needham is a man of unblemished character; he is cultivated, able, diligent and in thorough accord with the tariff policy that the raisin, prune and wine growers of the district desire to see enforced. In this respect he is in sympathy with the principles of his party and the policy of the administration. His record in Congress has been admirable.

The opponent of Mr. Needham has had no legislative experience. No matter what his individual opinions may be, his party is opposed to the protective tariff, without which the raisin and prune growers could not exist. Once in Washington he would be subservient to the Democratic caucus; he would have to vote, not as he thinks, but as a majority of his party colleagues dictate. He would have to surrender alike his own convictions and the interests of his constituents at the mandate of the men who have declared in the Democratic platform that protection is robbery. He is without acquaintance in Washington and his influence is yet to be gained.

Mr. Needham is not thus handicapped. His party caucus will not be hostile to the interests of the producers of his district. He is widely and favorably known in Washington, is advantageously placed on the committees and is experienced in the ways of legislation. He has the ear of the Speaker of the House and through him an command the favorable attention of the majority. In every respect he is qualified to serve his constituents effectively.

Can anybody advance any plausible reason for retiring him to make a place for an inexperienced member of the minority party? Until some valid excuse is given for such a foolish proceeding we shall continue confident of Mr. Needham's re-election.

The first rain of the season has put San Pablo avenue in a shocking condition. It cannot fail to impress strangers unfavorably that one of the most important thoroughfares in the city should be in such bad repair. There is a great volume of travel along San Pablo avenue, and the condition of the thoroughfare is therefore a poor advertisement for the city.

In 1901 the heart of Jacksonville, Florida, was burned out, 2400 houses being destroyed and 10,400 people rendered homeless. The city has been rebuilt with phenomenal rapidity and is now larger and more prosperous than before the fire. No less than 3600 new buildings have been erected within the last three years; 1200 more than were burned. Last year the city's trade was $7,000,000 more than the previous year, being the largest in the city's history. The people of Jacksonville appear to be animated by the same spirit that rebuilt Galveston, Texas.

THE COMPLIMENT IS APPRECIATED.

The OAKLAND TRIBUNE is reluctant to admit that it made a mistake in stating that the Argonaut was of the opinion that Thomas E. Watson would split the Solid South. It notes our denial, but still maintains that we "inferentially, if not directly, set forth that view." Well, let it go at that, since the denial is noted. "Otherwise," says the TRIBUNE, "we are pretty well, thank you, and increasing in circulation daily, printing all the news, and getting there first with bells." Good! The TRIBUNE is one of the brightest newspapers in the State.—The Argonaut.

To avoid that flat taste, boiled water should be poured back and forth several times from one pitcher to another after it has cooled.

Should ants get into the refrigerator a saucer of tartar emetic mixed with sugar and water should be placed there. It will drive them away.

When washing knives be careful not to put the handles in the water, as if this is done after a time the blades will become loose and the handles discolored.

Rubbing with a piece of flannel dipped in right hot water in which a generous pinch of soda has been dissolved, will remove paint splashes from window glass.

To clean looking glasses you must first wash the glass all over with lukewarm soapsuds and a sponge. When dry rub it with a buckskin and a little prepared chalk, finely powdered. A splendid gloss may be given by rubbing quickly with newspapers.

When you wish to use glass bottles which have contained oil for some other purpose and find it difficult to remove traces of the oil, try the following: Fill the bottle with ashes and place it in cold water, which should be heated gradually till it boils. Let it boil for an hour and let the bottle remain in the water until cold. Then wash it with soapsuds, rinsing in clear water.

If you should have been so unfortunate as to stain with ink an ox-blood or blue gingham waist it is probable that the stain can be removed by covering the spot with tartaric acid and moistening it. The acid will absorb the ink is gone. Ordinary, undiluted plication should be renewed until all the ink is gone. Ordinary, undiluted ammonia may then be put on and this will generally not only remove the last traces of stain but also renew the color. A final and very thorough rinsing in clear water must be given.

If your window glass is lacking in brilliancy, clean it with liquid paste made of alcohol and whiting. A little of this mixture will remove specks and impart a high luster to the glass.

A simple cement is the white lead that is used in painting in distillates. This cements china so well that dishes treated so can be freely washed without danger of rebreaking. The lead can be bought at any shop where art paints are sold.

Old samplers that lie for years in boxes not only become worn in the creases but they are not in convenient shape to show. Framed in narrow, dark frames and hung under the pictures of the ancestors that made them, they form an interesting addition to any one's pictures.

The water filter must have an occasional cleansing and one of the best preparations is a solution of permanganate of potassium. Dip a small brush in the solution and go over every atom of the surface after washing with hot soap suds and thoroughly rinsing. Should some small amount of the solution remain after several rinsings, it is not injurious.

Woven woolen or cotton undergarments and Turkish towels do not require ironing and will be much better without it. Be sure that they are thoroughly dry, of course before folding and putting them away. Care must be taken to shake out such things and to put them on the line in such a manner that they will not be drawn out of shape.

It was a philosopher who sung "Polly, put the kettle on," for, after all is said and done, what is a better use of hot water than a social brew of "the cup that cheers but does not inebriate"? But one should always bear in mind the ancient sampler couplet which our great-grandmothers have embroidered with such painstaking patience:

"It not the kettle boiling be,
Filling the teapot spoils the tea."

Robbed the Grave.
A startling incident is narrated by John Oliver of Philadelphia, as follows: "I was in an awful condition. My skin was almost yellow, eyes sunken, tongue coated, pain continually in back and sides, no appetite, growing weaker day by day. Three physicians had given me up. Then I was advised to use Electric Bitters. To my great joy the first bottle made a decided improvement. I continued their use for three weeks, and am now a well man. I know they robbed the grave of another victim." No one should fail to try them. Only 50 cents. Guaranteed at Osmond Bros. drug stores, Seventh and Broadway and Twelfth and Washington.

Miss Irene Campbell
OF SAN JOSE

IN HONOR OF SECRETARY METCALF.

The Home Club promises to add much to the social phases of the coming winter, for many interesting activities are being planned by the directors of the club. And first in the order of events is the reception to be given on next Monday evening in honor of Secretary and Mrs. Victor H. Metcalf.

The Home Club is unique in this way that it includes men in its membership, as befits a "home" club of course, and it must be said that the men are much enjoying the unusual honor, and are doing their full share towards making the club a great success.

Secretary Metcalf was not able to plan a date for the reception offered him, till late in the week, so the invitations are late in being sent out. But it will be a very successful affair nevertheless, for all their friends will be glad to meet the Metcalfs in the hospitable hall of the beautiful Home Club.

The officers and members of Committees who will receive are: Rev. and Mrs. C. R. Brown, Dr. and Mrs. J. K. McLean, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Barker, Mrs. J. M. Brock, Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Chamberlain, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Valentine G. Hush, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meek, Mr. and Mrs. F. F. WILL GIVE A MUSICAL.

One phase of activity of the Home Club is in helping other organizations who may need encouragement or assistance in carrying on their work. And so one of the largest receptions of the year has been planned for next Friday afternoon when the directors of the Social Settlement will receive their friends.

The reception is planned along very interesting lines. There will be a fine musical program, and among the singers will be Mrs. Montague, who is here from Honolulu, and who has a wonderful voice.

Miss Kinselnicka is to sing, and all music lovers are expecting a delightful afternoon. Mr. Fred Hotelling will also sing, and there will be the "monologue number"—the monologue being the fashionable form of entertainment in New York these days.

Quite the largest receiving party of the season will be at the Home Club to entertain the guests, and to lend assistance in making the affair a great success.

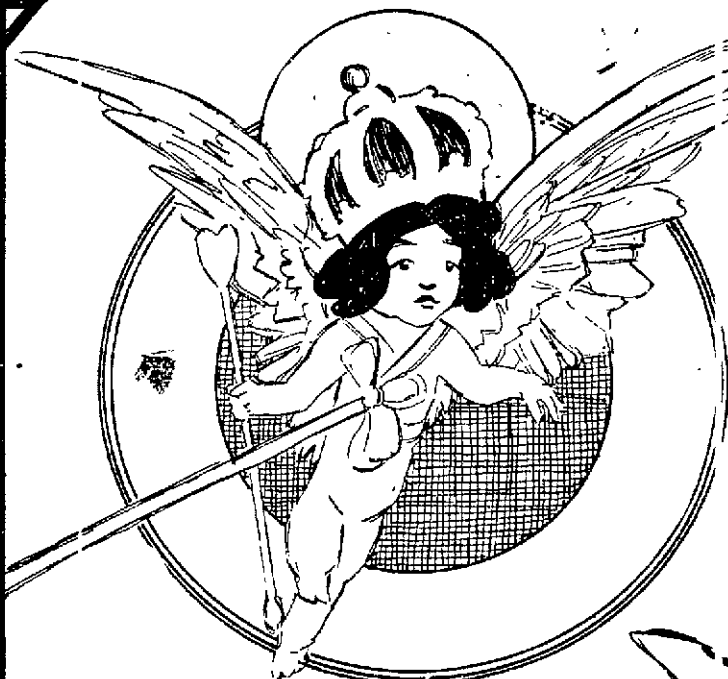

The receiving party for next Friday at the Home Club will include: Mrs. Henry Wetherbee, Mrs. John

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Baker were preparing to give a very elaborate reception in honor of the Wallace Alexanders. Cards were printed and ready to be sent out, when the news of the sailing in South Africa of Mr. Alexander put an end to all wedding festivities.

FRITZ KEMPF VISITS HERE.

Among the visitors in San Francisco this week has been Fritz Kempff. He is the youngest son of Admiral Kempff, and was one of the intended young pioneers who found his way out to Tonopah in the early days of the gold excitement there. His friends are telling many stories now of the big strike made in Tonopah by Fritz Kempff.

PALMERS LEAVE ON TUESDAY.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer and Miss Bessie Palmer are planning to leave Oakland in the near future for an extended trip abroad.

They will go first to New York, and later will go to Europe, where they will spend the entire winter. In traveling on the continent, Miss Bessie Palmer will be greatly missed in social circles. She goes out a great deal in the winter, being one of the Oakland girls who are very popular across the bay.

The Palmers have given up the residence on Jackson street, and have stored their furniture. They leave for New York on Tuesday, and expect to be gone a year.

The Silas Palmers are also in the East, but they expect to return to San Francisco for the winter.

WERE POPULAR IN SOCIETY.

The Misses Sallie and Carolyn Quinan were among the most popular girls of the fortnightly set here some seasons ago. They went to South Africa with their father and brother, but they have kept up a correspondence with their friends here all these months. Miss Carolyn Quinan is now in Denver, but is expected here in a short time. She has been spending some months in New York and Boston.

NOTABLE DINNERS OF THE WEEK.

The two notable dinners of the week have been planned by Miss Ethel

Moore and Miss Jean Requa. Miss Ethel Moore is a very great friend of Miss Katherine Diller, the charming San Francisco housewife, whose engagement to Lieutenant Winship was recently announced.

Miss Moore's dinner was very successful and her guests included many bright people from across the bay.

Mr. Requa will entertain on Friday evening at dinner in honor of Secretary and Mrs. Victor Metcalf. Mrs. Requa is famous for her dinners. She entertains most elaborately—there are always very gorgeous decorations, and Mrs. Requa has some of the most beautiful china to be seen anywhere in the State. Only personal friends of the Metcalfs are included in the guest list.

ILLNESS AT THE SELBY HOME.

The Selbys have had a perfect siege of illness in the pretty new home at Linda Vista. Edith Selby has gone to Los Gatos for the autumn months and Mr. Prentiss Selby is slowly recovering from a very severe attack of illness. It has made the home coming of Miss Florence and Miss Coralie Selby a sad one, in a measure, for there could not be the joyful welcome which had been planned for them.

Miss Florence Selby is not going back to New York immediately, but is planning to remain here till early in January, and both she and her sister Coralie will be popular guests at most of the social functions this winter.

MRS. LUNING'S LUNCHEON.

Among the very pleasant events of the week will be a luncheon and theater party planned by Mrs. Oscar Luning for Saturday.

Mrs. Luning will entertain her friends in the Palm Garden of the Palace Hotel. After luncheon the hostess and her guests will adjourn to the theater, and spend a delightful afternoon, enjoying the many beautiful scenes which go to make up the success of "The Wizard of Oz."

Mrs. Luning's guests will be Mrs. John P. Conner, Mrs. George Perkins Jr., Miss Conner, Miss Charlotte Elser, Miss Lile, and Miss Anna Thompson.

MERRY WEDDING BELLS.

If you listen you will hear nothing in the air but the sound of merry wedding bells. And around the many engagements centers a great deal of the social activities of the September days.

Miss Isabelle Hooper is the honored guest at complimentary affairs both in San Francisco and in Alameda.

The wedding date for Mr. Wigginton Creed and Miss Isabelle Hooper is set for October 15. The Hoopers have one of the largest and most beautiful homes in Alameda, one of those very picturesque places sloping down to the bay. It is an ideal house for an October wedding, and the details are all planned to make it one of the most perfect of the autumn weddings.

Miss Isabelle Hooper is a very pretty girl of the brunette type of beauty, and she is sure to make a very lovely bride. Her attendants are to be her sister, Mrs. Sumner Crosby, and little Miss Pussy Creed, the sister of the groom.

Mr. Creed has chosen the ushers from among his intimate University friends, and they will be Duncan McDuffie, Victor Henderson, Arthur Tashelra and Will Creed. Mr. Clarence Creed, who CARDS FOR THE DANCING CLUBS.

Cards are being sent out for the various dancing clubs, and they are awaited with much interest by the young people. Mr. Green has sent out cards for the three assemblies, and the list this season is much smaller than it has been in the past.

On our side of the bay the patronesses this week have sent out cards for the Maple Club dances. The cards read:

"You are cordially invited to become a member of the Maple Club which meets at Reed Hall.

Patronesses: Mrs. T. C. Coogan, Mrs. M. W. Kales, Mrs. C. S. Houghton, Mrs. S. P. Conger, Mrs. W. M. Hall.

"October twenty-eighth November twenty-fifth, December thirtieth, January twenty-seventh; April twenty-first.

"Tickets for the season, five dollars. These can be obtained from Mrs. Kales, 176 Lake street.

"Single tickets, one dollar can be obtained from Mrs. Hall, 21 Thirteenth street."

The invitations for the Friday Night Club are not yet out. Mrs. Edward Walsh is planning to entertain the patronesses at luncheon on next Tuesday, when affairs relating to the club will be discussed, and the invitations will probably be sent out immediately after.

ANOTHER DANCING CLUE.

Another club which seems to promise many good times this winter is called "La Jeunesse Dancing Club," and the patronesses have already sent out invitations for the winter. The dances will take place in Maple Hall, and they will be chaperoned by Mrs. John A. Britton, Mrs. J. E. Morris, Mrs. S. L. Calver, Mrs. Walter Mathews and Mrs. Pembethy.

WALSHS TO GO EAST.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Walsh will leave for the East in a few days. They will go first to St. Louis, and will afterwards visit some of the larger cities of the East.

SENDS CARDS FOR THE WINTER.

Mrs. Philip Tuggle Clay has sent out cards for the winter. She will be at home on the second and third Fridays, at her residence 2214 Steiner street, San Francisco.

MR. AND MRS. PRATHER TO GO EAST.

The Hooper-Creed wedding bids fair to be one of the largest and most picturesque weddings of the year in Alameda County.

MISS KENDALL'S WEDDING.

Miss Isabelle Kendall is one of the youngest brides-elect of the year and the younger set, and the older set, too, for that matter, are greatly interested in all the details of the coming wedding, which is set for October 20.

Miss Letty Barry, who is to be the maid of honor entertained at a dainty tea on Tuesday, in honor of Miss Isabelle Kendall.

The house was a very pretty study in quiet decorations—the decorations of the Barry home are always in perfect taste, and always subordinated to the home atmosphere.

The trouble with most decorations today is that they are overdone. A wildwood tangle of shrubbery is all right in the woods, but it is quite all wrong in a drawing room. It takes up space, and entirely takes away the home atmosphere, and the home has lost instead of gained by the ill-chosen decorations.

Miss Letty Barry received with her guest, Isabelle Kendall, and they were assisted by bright girls of the Friday Night set, among them, the Misses Lilian Isaacs, Cornelia Stratton, Anne and Phoebe McElrath, Lillie Reed, Effie Wade, Myrtle Sims, Noelle De Golia, Lauretta Burnham, May Coogan, Viva Nicholson and Miss Eleanor Geisler.

The Geisslers have come over here to spend the winter and have taken the Wakefield house on Harrison street.

Mrs. Philip Clay came across to assist her sister in receiving, and the tea was a very pleasant and entirely informal affair.

Miss Isabelle Kendall is getting together one of the finest collections of engagement cups of the year. Some of them are perfectly exquisite specimens of ceramic art.

One hears that before the engagement was even announced she had forty cups, all of them unique and beautiful, and since the engagement, cups have been arriving from friends across the bay, so that when the wedding day arrives Miss Kendall will have a collection both artistic and valuable.

Among the wedding gifts is some perfectly gorgeous and very rare old lace. There is a beautiful panel which is to be used on the skirt of the wedding gown, and there is also a beautiful bertha which will adorn the corsage.

Miss Kendall has a very beautiful trousseau, which is the great admiration of her young girl friends.

Mr. Kenneth Lowden recently returned from abroad, and he brought many beautiful gifts for his fiancée, Miss Kendall.

THE MILLER WEDDING.

Another of the notable October weddings is set for October 12. Rear-Admiral and Mrs. Merrill Miller have sent out invitations for the wedding of their daughter, Anne, and Paymaster George Brown, United States Navy.

The Millers, on the retirement of Admiral Miller a few months ago, took up their residence in Berkeley. The wedding is to be very picturesque, carried out with the military details which are so very bright and effective. Nothing in the world equals the American flag as a motif for decoration.

After the wedding ceremony, there will be a large reception in the new Berkeley Inn, at which many guests, prominent in military circles on this coast will be present.

WEDDING AT THE YOUNG HOME.

Of course the great social event of the week on this side of the bay was the wedding of Dr. Thomas Reed McNab of Los Angeles and Miss May Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Young of Rosecrest.

One feature of the wedding festivities was the informal entertainments of friends, which made the week bright for the wedding party.

The round of twenty began with a luncheon given for guests at the Palm Garden of the Palace Hotel by Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld. The guests of honor were Miss May Young and Mrs. William H. Richardson, formerly Miss Bertha Gage. The luncheon was exceedingly picturesque, and the twenty guests were seated at one large table, which was beautifully decorated, the centerpiece being a superb study of pink bridesmaid roses.

On Monday evening Mrs. A. L. Stone gave "the dinner dance," which was one of the jolliest affairs of the week. The dinner dance is all the rage at Newport, and Mrs. Stone always has the latest in the lines of entertainment, direct from the social swim as one finds it in New York and Newport. Mrs. Stone is a very fascinating hostess. She takes infinite trouble to amuse her guests, and she has the rare knack of succeeding.

She was beautifully gowned on Monday evening in pink panne satin, artistically trimmed in lace.

The table was a study in pale pink bridesmaid roses, and the menu cards were done in water colors, each card showing a dainty wedding scene. Shortly after the dinner the guests bided adieu to the dance arrived, and the gaily decorated ball-room showed a merry throng of dancers. During the evening there was a vaudeville—the participants being professionals, and one of them doing a clog-dance, inspiring to the last degree. There was the funniest possible game of "musical chairs" for prizes, and long after midnight, the jolly Virginia reel, in which every one joined heartily closed the festivities of the evening.

Among the beautiful gowns of the evening were those of the Misses Young, the Misses Oliver, Miss Anne McNab, Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. George S. Wheaton, Mrs. Edward Brayton, Miss Ruth Kales, Miss Marietta Havens, Mrs. Maxwell Taft, Mrs. George McNear Jr.

DINNER TO THE WEDDING PARTY.

The pretty bride-elect, Miss May Young, gave the dinner to the wedding party on Tuesday evening at Rosecrest. The table showed the most delightful scheme in French color effects, the color tones being pink and blue. The flowers were beautiful pink bridesmaid roses, and the blue tones were carried out in blue tulle, daintily gathered into true lover's knots. An elaborate menu was served, and the dinner was made most enjoyable by many happy surprises. Miss Bertha Young had provided gifts for each of the guests. For each girl there was a very dainty silver vase, with the date inscribed on it. For each of the men there was a dainty silver loving cup.

After the dinner, the bride gave the wedding favors to her attendants. They were exquisite necklaces in turquoise and pearl. It was a very dainty dinner, and was very enjoyable.

The merry crowd of young people who have made up this special wedding party, have had a very jolly week of entertainment. On Thursday evening, and on Friday evening, the wedding attendants made up a theater party to attend "The Wizard of Oz."

On Saturday the Los Angeles guests left for their homes in Southern California.

STORMY NIGHT FOR WEDDING.

Thursday evening represented one of the stormiest nights of the entire year, but the storm that raged with such violence outside, made all more attractive the beautiful home at Rosecrest, which had been superbly decorated in honor of the wedding of Miss May Young and Dr. McNab.

Shortly after 8 o'clock the guests began to arrive, and while they were waiting for the wedding party, there were many exclamations of pleasure over the beautiful decorations of the rooms.

The decoration followed a wonderfully dainty scheme—it was all outlined in the feathery asparagus fern. It was the motif for the decoration and appeared everywhere with a wonderful light and airy effect, very gracefully indeed. Everywhere, intertwined in the asparagus fern were Cecil Bruner roses, charming little "Baby" roses. There was a touch of sentiment about these same roses. Miss May Young was the baby of the family and Dr. McNab was the youngest child of a large family, and so "Baby" roses seemed the appropriate flower for the dainty decorations. And it was against a background of Cecil Bruner roses that the wedding party stood for the important ceremony.

The living room showed a very striking scheme of decoration. The color scheme was in pink, worked out with great pink tiger lilies, pink tulle and large bow-knots of pink ribbon.

At half-past eight, the music of the march from Lohengrin echoed down the stairway, and the bridal procession came in sight, Miss Marietta Havens slowly leading the way. She was a perfectly beautiful study, exquisitely fair, and she might have stepped out of some wonderfully rare old picture, painted by one of the great masters, as she came slowly and all by herself down the wide staircase. The wedding party came very slowly and the attendants were a long way apart, the wedding march being managed with fine effect.

Miss Havens was followed by Miss Anita Oliver and Miss Anne McNab, looking exquisitely dainty in gowns of blue, and then came Miss Bertha Young, the maid-of-honor, walking alone, a very pretty, dainty study in blue.

And last of all came the bride with her father, Mr. Alexander Young. They were met by the groom, Dr. McNab, and by the best man, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. E. Baker.

As the wedding group was arranged for the ceremony, the picture was both beautiful and effective.

Miss Young made a most charming, dainty little bride, and her wedding gown was exceedingly beautiful. It was of white satin, and the skirt was magnificently trimmed in the rarest of rose point lace. The corsage showed a superb trimming of rose point lace, the gown representing one of the most elaborate wedding gowns seen here this year.

The wedding veil of tulle was trimmed with a border of real lace and was held in place by lilies of the valley, and the costume was set off by the bride's bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Bertha Young's gown was a very elaborate creation in blue. It was of pale blue chiffon trimmed in point applique, and the bodice showed a superb trimming of the applique.

The bridesmaids were also in pale blue chiffon, the effect being very exquisite and dainty. The skirt and corsage were lighted with lace and cream net.

Bertha Young planned many beautiful surprises. There never was a more unselfish girl in a household. Among the other surprises were the flowers which the bridesmaids carried. They did not know what they were to be, but when they were given for the wedding, they were given the most beautiful garlands, genuine Hawaiian leis. They were made from the petals of the Enchantress carnations, and were finished with pink tulle and Cecil Bruner roses, the touch of pink, adding a dainty French effect to the color scheme of blue.

The whole color tone of the wedding was specially restful against the warm color tones of red, which mark the furnishings of "Rosecrest."

After the ceremony there was the usual informal reception, when many congratulations and good wishes were offered the beautiful bride and happy groom.

Later an elaborate wedding supper was served, all the many details being most effectively arranged by Falkham.

At the bride's table was seated the wedding party, and the table carried the same scheme of decoration, asparagus fern and Cecil Bruner roses. In the dining room at other tables were members of the Young and McNab families. Over a hundred guests were seated at little tables in the dining-room, wide hall, and Turkish room.

It was a merry supper, with gay toasts, and bright, and happy congratulatory speeches. The entire company standing drank to the health of the bride and groom, and there echoed all over the house the merry strains of the chorus—

"For he's a jolly good fellow,
Which nobody can deny."

Everybody joined in it heartily, for every one knew it to be true.

Later amid a perfect shower of rice, Dr. and Mrs. McNab left for their wedding journey. They are coming for a few days to "Rosecrest," before the Young family leave for Honolulu, and they will make their permanent home in Los Angeles, where Dr. McNab is establishing a promising practice.

Among the relatives at the wedding were Dr. McNab's brother, his mother, and a very charming sister, Miss Annie McNab. Mrs. von Hamm and Mrs. Anderson, sisters of the bride, came from Honolulu for the wedding. Among those present was Alexander Young Jr. and to every one's joy, Mrs. Young was able to come down-stairs for the ceremony. She had not been out of her room for a month, and no one expected her to be able to come down-stairs, but to the great surprise and pleasure of the bride, she was able to be present at the ceremony.

Many prominent people well known in social circles were at the wedding. Among other guests were the Dillinghams from Honolulu. Some of the very beautiful gowns destined to be in evidence this winter were worn for the first time at the wedding on Thursday night.

One of the most striking gowns of the evening was worn by Mrs. Henry Butters. It was a gown of black net, the ruffles edged with jet. The corsage had a superb bertha of rare Duchesse lace, and the gown which was made abroad, was set off with a magnificent fan of white ostrich plumes.

Mrs. Isaac Requa looked exceedingly well in a gown of black, the skirt carrying an overdress superbly spangled, and the corsage showing a trimming of rare lace.

Mrs. W. G. Palmanteer wore a gown in tones of gray, the skirt and corsage completely covered with rare black lace.

Mrs. von Hamm of Honolulu wore a very becoming gown, made along unusually interesting lines. It was of pale pink panne satin, with dainty touches of lace.

Miss Coralie Selby wore a very pretty gown, made abroad, the gown lighted with red roses. Miss Gertrude Allen's costume was exceedingly picturesque, the dainty French gown was trimmed with lace, and it showed very pretty effects in Cecil Bruner roses.

Mrs. A. W. Havens was gowned in white silk, the gown daintily trimmed in lace.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Miller. The latter wore an exceedingly handsome gown in white liberty satin.

Miss May Coogan wore a gown of white silk and Miss Jane Barry wore the exquisite gown of white lace, which she wore at the Clay-Barry wedding.

Mrs. Frederick Stelp looked exceedingly handsome in a gown showing black effects. It was elaborately appliqued in silver.

Mrs. Edward Walsh's gown was of white chiffon, beautifully and embroidered.

Miss Florence Hush was very stunning, the dainty gown of pink elaborately trimmed with lace.

Mrs. William H. Richardson was very handsome indeed, in a striking costume showing black and white effects.

Mrs. Maxwell Taft wore a gown of white satin and Mrs. Lee Burnham was also in white satin, the corsage showing a beautiful bertha of lace.

Mrs. Willard Williamson wore a very dainty gown of white, the corsage showing artistic French effects in dainty hand embroidery of pink and blue.

Miss Emma Mahoney was handsomely gowned in white, the corsage showing becoming trimmings of sweet peas in brilliant tones of red.

Mrs. Oscar Gowing looked specially well in a gown of pink and Miss Pearl King made a very pretty picture in an elaborate evening gown of pink, worn with ornaments of pearls.

Mrs. William Letts Oliver always looks superb in evening dress. Her gown showed an artistic effect in black and her ornaments were diamonds.

Mrs. Henry Rosenfeld was among the guests from across the bay, and she wore a most becoming gown in pastel shades of pink.

Many of the young girls from the Friday Night set were at the wedding. Among those who wore gowns specially dainty were the Misses Alice and Ruth Knowles, Jane Crellin and Gertrude Gould.

Among the guests of the evening were Mr. Kenneth Lowden and Miss Isabelle Kendall, whose engagement was announced last week.

Mrs. George W. Percy wore a most becoming gown of black, the gown lighted with a bertha of rare lace. Miss Isabelle Percy was also attractively gowned.

Mrs. Erwin Brinckerhoff wore a gown of white satin elaborately trimmed in lace.

Miss Carolyn Oliver was one of the most attractive girls at the wedding, and she wore a most becoming gown of white chiffon.

Mrs. Harry Thomas has just returned from Carmel by the Sea, and her gown at the wedding was very becoming, a dainty effect in pink and white.

Miss Pauline Fore and Miss Ethel Valentine were among the very interesting girls at the wedding.

Miss Pauline Fore is very beautiful and she has improved very much by her recent summer vacation.

Miss Ethel Valentine's gown was of white chiffon daintily trimmed in lace.

Miss Valentine is spending some weeks with Miss Janet Height at the latter's home on Alce street.

Mrs. John F. Coomers wore a gown of white chiffon with a handsome overdress of lace. The corsage was trimmed with lace and a garniture of forget-me-nots.

Miss Ada Kenna made a very stunning picture in a costume in white and yellow effects.

Among the very exquisite costumes of the evening was the one worn by Mrs. Andrew L. Stone. It was very elegant and Mrs. Stone carries her clothes extremely well, being both tall and stately.

Very handsome gowns were also worn by Mrs. G. B. Cook, Miss Alma and Miss Ada Brown and the Misses Mabelle and Irene Rutherford.

Among the prettiest girls present was Miss Cordie Bishop who was beautifully gowned in white.

During the evening a poem written by Mr. Alexander Young was read. It was entitled, "To My Daughter May," and was read in splendid style by Miss Pearl King. Miss King has a very exquisite voice which has been beautifully trained and she brought out all the lovely sentiment of the poem.

Among the stanzas might be quoted:
TO MY DAUGHTER MAY
Upon the Occasion of Her Marriage
September 22, 1904.

My dearest May, my own, my best,
It seems but yesterday (sweet thing)
Your infant lips with joy and zest
Began to lip, and talk, and sing.

As days and months and years sped by,
Your sunny nature blest our home
And brought full happiness quite nigh,
But now, dear child, you seek to roam,

As fledglings climb their rustic nests,
Peer for a while, then fly away,
So, children leave their mothers' breasts
Endear our homes, but will not stay.

Kind parents here should not complain,
For they themselves did just the same

Regardless of the elder twain,
Who thought their loss a crying shame.

And now, in love, my charming May,
I give you to your own, free choice—
The man you've loved from day to day
Since first you heard his manly voice.

Such throwing of rice has rarely been equaled and Doctor and Mrs. McNab made a brave dash through a perfect fusillade of rice, interspersed with which were hundreds of tiny horse shoes.

Doctor and Mrs. McNab will return for a few days to Rosecrest before going to Southern California. Their wedding was one of the most elaborate and most perfectly planned weddings of the year.

MISS PALMANTEER IN EUROPE.

Miss Carolyn Palmanteer is still in Europe, and has been spending the past few weeks in Paris. She will return to Oakland early in the coming winter.

Mrs. Frederick Morse after all did not reach St. Louis, for which place she started with her brother. She was very ill as the train reached Nebraska and it was considered wisest for her to return home.

WILL ENJOY A JOLLY EVENING.

Some of the Fruitvale contingent will enjoy a jolly evening with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Albright.

Mr. and Mrs. Albright are planning to entertain their friends in the big barn, which has been appropriately decorated for the interesting event. Each neighbor invited is to bring a dinner and Mrs. Albright is to make coffee as well as other things for the guests.

The Albrights live near Level Lea and there are many households of relatives all on the same street.

The interesting and unusual dinner is scheduled to take place at 6 o'clock on Friday.

FETE HAS BEEN POSTPONED.

And so the Fete for the benefit of the Chancel Chapters of St. Paul's Church had to be postponed. There never was anything like the meanness of the clerk of the weather towards us, whenever he hears we are to have a garden fete. He either sends down upon us a fog so dense one can hardly see our way, or else he sends the worst storm of the season to discourage us in our philanthropic effort. There was nothing the matter with the storm—it came to time—when is the reason the St. Paul Fete will not come to time.

The Fete has been indefinitely postponed and other details regarding it will be announced later.

WILL HAVE A CHURCH WEDDING.

The Fores have so many friends that they have decided to make the coming marriage of Mr. Hewlett and Miss Ione Fore a church affair. It will take place in St. Paul's Church—that historic church which has known so many beautiful brides.

Among the brides attendants will be Pauline and Natalie Fore, Ethel Valentine and Miss Christie Rait. The church wedding will be followed by a reception at the home of the Fores on Franklin street.

MANY DATES ARE FIXED

The season is now fairly on with a date for every day in the week and for very busy people there are two dates in many of the days. Luncheons, receptions, card gatherings, club dates follow each other in rapid succession, till life is one round of activity. But it all goes to make up the good winter's work which everyone is planning and which most people are beginning with every promise of success.

STORY GOING THE ROUNDS.

I heard a story the other day familiar to some of the men about town one of whom indiscreetly repeated it to his wife. She in turn told it to a friend, and a little bird has been whispering it about in people's ears at a lively rate until it is pretty nearly everybody but the lady most interested is on to use an accepted piece of slang.

This lady adorns the social set. She goes everywhere and dresses beautifully looking most regal when she appears in her diamond necklace—a gift from her husband. This necklace is her pride—and about it hangs the story. The lady fondly believes her gem priceless and guards them with the most care but her husband—hardened old sinner—one night took a few dollars too much and confided to his male guests that the blamed thing only cost him thirty-five dollars.

It is related that he laughed in great glee at the joke he had perpetrated on his wife who wouldn't for the world wear bogus jewelry.

The wisecrack prophesied a divorce, she later finds out the necklace.

WANT MORE GOOD HALLS

The younger set are here and they are out against the lack of good halls for dancing purposes. Many date have been already altered and postponed, owing to this lack. Beside Berkeleyites are obliged to come over here when they give a dance of any size.

Reed Hall has been engaged by them already for several functions and it is said that Maple Hall is simply snowed under.

When the promoters build that big hotel they have in their collective mind's eye let us hope they will not forget to add an immense ballroom.

WOMEN'S CLUBS REORGANIZED

The various women's clubs have reorganized this month for the season but they rarely get into working order until October.

Ebell has had one or two social functions, forerunners of others regularly to follow but the sections are in a comparatively embryonic state several of the leaders being still out of town.

Mrs. Grace Gorrill Gowing who last year headed the Original Writers section declined to serve this coming season and her mantle fell upon the shoulders of Miss Beth Gray but Miss Gray is absent on an extended Eastern trip before leaving Oakland however she transferred her duties to Mrs. Albert Smith, who with her family, is now doing the St. Louis Fair. The Smiths expect to return to Oakland by the 1st of October at least when Mrs. Smith will lead her section until such time as Miss Gray returns.

The first meeting of the Original Writers has been set for the last Friday in September when plans for the year will be discussed.

WHIST CLUB TO MEET.

The first Monday in October has been selected for the initial opening of the Whist Club of which Mrs. Maher is president.

The members of this club have played together for four or five seasons past yet strange to say the organization has never been christened, being referred to simply as the club. It is one of their unwritten laws that the prizes shall consist of either hand-painted china or cut-glass, and there were some very handsome wintings last year.

The membership is limited to twenty and the meetings take place twice a month.

WANT PEACE IN CLUBS.

Speaking of card clubs it is to be hoped that the present year will be more peaceful than the one past. Last winter there were several disagreeable experiences related and one actually occurred when a guest averred most emphatically that she had lost a sum of money while she was merely following the lead. She had it appears left her purse on the bed while engaged in playing. This lady, so it is reported immediately created a scene and accused her hostess children of theft. This the latter denied and there was a regular hot time and several withdrawals from membership although the majority laughed the allegation to scorn, and declared that the accuser hadn't brought any money at all with her.

To say the least the matter caused a quiet scandal and though efforts were made to hush the affair up it leaked out as does everything of a spicy nature.

BOYS AND THE PRINCIPAL

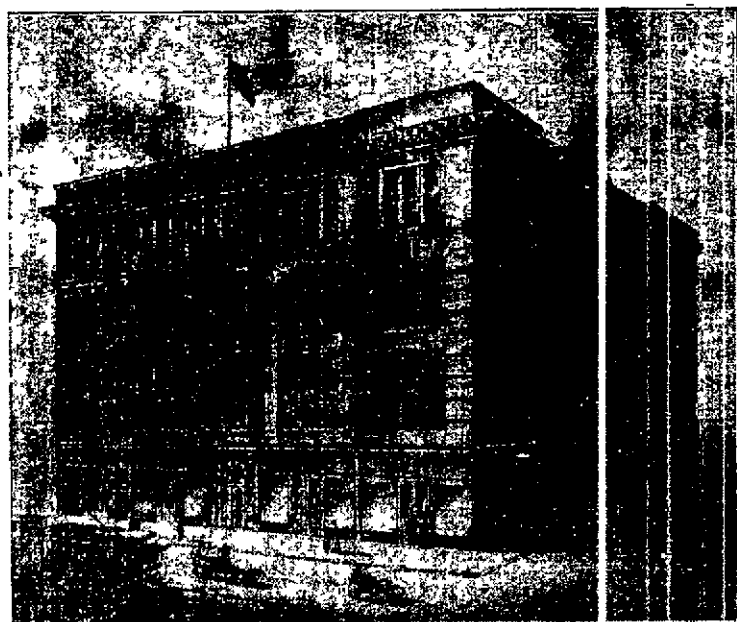

Professor James Principal of the Berkeley High School got married recently and with his bride has set up housekeeping. The Professor is held in high esteem by his pupils who contributed quite a sum of money to be used in making a gift expressive of their regard. A committee was appointed with the result that the newly wedded pair are now in possession of a beautiful Persian rug. Would that all wedding gifts were so appropriate.

LEND A HAND CLUB.

The Lend-a-Hand Club of the Unitarian Church has reorganized with the Misses Addie and Carrie Gorrill as leading spirits. This club is most successful in its results and does much practical good.

PASTOR STIRS UP PARISHIONERS.

The Rev. E. E. Baker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church across the way is stirring up his wealthy congregation in a way that is said to be not altogether pleasing to some of them. Says the Wasp: He preached on the Model Husband recently and declared that in his opinion there are precious few of them. The question is whether Mr. Baker is in a position to know. He laid all sorts of sins at the average husband's door and then stood up unashamed and told what a good man should be. So far as I could catch his meaning, remarked a lady member of the congregation, the specimen that Mr. Baker pictured would be something as meek as a sheep and as guileless as a babe in arms—what there is without a vertebrae. I feel sure that no self-respecting woman would care to live in the house with a model husband cut from the pattern described by Mr. Baker.

The next Sunday the eloquent and courageous preacher paid his respects to the women of the parish. He deplored the nagging habit and he gave the gentle sex pointers on how to manage a man without letting him know it. I take off my hat to the wife who can manage her husband and make him believe that he is the lord of the manor, said Mr. Baker. She is a courtier tactician and she is worthy of our highest regard. To be able to be a boss—that is a great deal, to boss a person and to have him think that he is the master—that is indeed worthy the study of any one who has in her mind the high purpose of being the model wife. The wives of the parish are indignant that the preacher should talk to them of nagging. Nagging indeed when every one with eyes knows that their voices are as sweet as the oft-quoted Western who that woe the flowers. And the banality of thinking that they could not pick their own husbands' pockets without instructions from the pastor—well that was the last straw.

WEDDING TO BE GRAND AFFAIR.

The betrothal of young Bradley Martin and Miss Helen Hupps, daughter of the multi-millionaire Henry Phipps is the talk of every house-part in England according to my London letter says Town Talk. A rich American and a poor Englishman or vice versa, would be more fitting it is claimed, but here again is evidenced the modern policy of the ultra rich to combine fortunes and fortify their class. The wealth of the Bradley-Martins is immense that of Phipps is over thirty million dollars made with Carnegie in the famous steel deal where the canny Scotchman drew out three hundred million. The union of two such fortunes means that the wedding will be garnished with that fulsome brilliance which marks the marriages of the very rich in the so resplendent days of garnish weddings. Already the plan is to eclipse in magnitude and splendor the scenic efforts which surrounded the nuptials of Miss Goelet and the Duke of Roxburghe. Enormous orders have already been sent to at least but salaries the would continue to decrease in a direct ratio to the increased cost of living.

It sounded all so grand and big that the woman who was inclined to hesitate was carried away by the tide of enthusiasm, and gave her last hoarded penny for the fair. There was a good sum raised—I did not hear just how much—from the Native Daughters of the Golden West in Hayward. They were if anything, a trifle more generous after they had seen properly worked up to it than the Native Sons, who were supposed to stand shoulder to shoulder with them.

But the row came in when one of two of the more determined ones refused to give up their hard-earned shekels for the good of Haywards or of any blooming Native Daughter or Native Son within its borders. What has Haywards done for us they inquired that we should give it our substance and go bare ended doing the rail of the long wire?

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS FORE.

The announcement of the engagement of Ione Fore to Eugene Hewlett caused a pleasurable flutter in society. Miss Fore was at one time engaged to Will King, society man and organist of Oakland who on the disfavor of church-goers in the town across the bay because he played ragtime on the church organ one night in company with several worldly companions. Miss Fore however broke her engagement with him several months before this advent. The fair Ione is the young lady who incurred the jealousy of the local members of the Fortnightly last year on account of her beauty. She was so popular that the wall-flowers made many cutting remarks about her. Wasp.

NATIVE DAUGHTERS EXCITED.

Haywards is in the midst of a big racket among its Native Daughters. It seems that when the Indoor Fair that was opened on Wednesday night was first talked of a committee was appointed to go among the gentle sex—almost all workers in the busy marts of Haywards—and see what could be obtained in the way of cash. It was represented that the fair was for the purpose of booming the Native Daughters and in an indirect way of booming Haywards the burg that could produce such an aggregate of genuine—and well-peroxidized—golden-haired loveliness says the Wasp. The committee I am told was composed of silver-tongued orators, and they talked their prettiest, trying to coax ten dollars from the pocket-books of each of the hard-working type writers and clerks. Many of these young women gave the money parting with the last squeeze from the coin that was intended for a hat or some bit of feminine frippery. But as the committee reasoned what weight would a plumed hat against the permanent good of Haywards? Property would increase so that they would have to pay higher taxes groceries would be raised in price and in short everything would boom in the lovely burg—everything

Paris and a representative of Worth is on his way to Beaufort Castle with a budget of glorious ideas. At no lively gathering as at this castle. The wedding will not take place there for three months, and already those most interested are in lively rehearsal for the grand affair. When the sister of Lord Lovat was married there last year, a striking effect was made by all the men in dressing in Highland costume. So great a hit did it make that the bride's mother is seriously considering the same detail. The gayest and brightest plaids have been provided for the use of the young guests visiting the castle and the scheme is being tried out in the wedding rehearsal.
